Professional Summary

I am currently enrolled in the B.Tech program in Computer Science & AI at Newton School of Technology, where I have cultivated a strong understanding of Python, DBMS, and fundamental C++. Through my academic pursuits and participation in competitive programming on platforms such as LeetCode and HackerRank, I have honed my problem-solving abilities and developed a fervor for overcoming intricate challenges. My enthusiasm for technology drives me to seek connections with like-minded professionals and peers who share my passion. I am eager to explore avenues for collaboration and knowledge exchange.
